LISTEN to that woman relling said Scrogge to Spink. She is struggling to reach high C. Yes, she makes me tir-od; worse, she makes me C sick.

THERE is no hump on the back of our Campbell. His spinal column is as straight and stiff as a circus pole, and he is shapely and finely rounded from stem to stern. He looks like a thor-oughbred and acts like a winner.

"Where do you think," said she.
"The World's Pair ought to he?"
He drew her to his side.
And hugging her replied,
"I'm actioned our dear To haid the fast xight here.

40 years.

The Springfield, Ohio, Daily Demo-crat has been entarged to an eight col-umn folio, the size of the News-Demo-chat. It has just passed its first year and is a booming success. It is a bang-up paper and deserves all it gets, and more too. When Democratic dailies flourish in Ohio it indicates that the campaign of education is in a vigorous and healthy condition.

GEO. U. HARN, editor of the Mans-seid Herald, Senator Sherman's home organ, writes a card to the Columbus Post, denying that he will vote for Campbell for Governer. He is careful, however, not to say that he will vote for Foraker. The statement that he would vote for Campbell was printed in the NEWS-DYMOGRAT on the author-ity of the Mansfield shield and Ban-ner.

Under President Cleveland the average decrease of the public dept for four years, during the months of July and August was $10,000,000. During the same mouths, under President Harri-ion, the increase has been about $7,000. 000; making a difference of $17,000,000 in favor a Democratic administration, or an aggregate of $34,000,000 for the year. Figures like these talk loud to the country.

Ir the people of Ohio endorse at the polls the principle embodied in the reg-istration law, that an autocrat at Cotumbus should appoint our local offi-cials just as Queen Victoria or her min-isters appoint the local officials for Ire-land, then we might as well quit talk-ing about a free government.—Zanes-ville Signal.

We have not quit talking about a free government up in this neck of woods, not by a large majority. We expect to keep right at it until November, and theu we have high hopes that this and all kindred outrages on the taxpayers and honest voters of Ohlo will receive its final quietus and settle

THE wool growers of Ohio have not forgotten that Campbell, the Demo-cratic nominee in that State, voted and worked for the Mills bill, which removed every particle of protection from wood.—[N. Y. Mail & Express.

The colored voters of Ohio have not forgotten that Foraker left college because a young man was admitted to the same class who had wool instead of hair on his head. When it comes to the wool question, that is a two edged sword. Those who raise wool on their heads and those who wear wool on their backs are both interested in opposing Foraker, and they are in the majority.

driven from the Protected workshop and the Protected mines and the vandal hordes—Italians, Huns, Magyars or Scytheans—step in and fill his place. The millionaire departs for Europe and purchases a castle, while the billionaire corporation, with no soul on either continent, comes in and takes his place. This is the practical result of the Protection policy.

WE are getting almost daily dis-patches of race wars, so called, in the South. These race wars seem to be South. These race wars seem to be largely the creation of the agents of the Associated Press, a powerful machine, owned and controlled by a syndicate of leading Republican newspapers. Among our exchanges we get the Chattanooga Times, an independent newspaper of large circulation and influence in Tennessee and Northern Georgia, and edited by a Northern soldier, who won his eagles in the Union army. Here is what he says about the "race war" in the last number of his 'race war" in the last number of his "race war" in the last number of his paper, to hand:

"If a negro and a white man happen to get into a quarrel anywhere in the South and either one is seriously burt, at once a lot of yelping curs and sensation mongers load down the telegraph wires with rot about "another race war." The best thing a southern community can do to stop the dissemination of these outrageous slanders is to administer some tar and a few feathers on the carcass of these slanderers. It will teach them a wholesome lesson and will teach them a wholesome leason and may stop a few lies about alleged "race wars" in the South.

Young man listen to us. Turning the night into day is burning out the frail candle of human life at both ends; and burning it fast. Man is a machine; and a machine that wears out just like and a machine that wears out just like a steam engine, or a pump. It is a mistake to suppose that the element of life is in the blood, and that injecting the blood of a lamb into the veius of an old man will rejuvenate his bones and muscles, and make his heart best like a child. Hence there is no elixir of life that carry when you were out. that can save you when you wear out your machine. The Sanitary Era well says: The change of a word in Moore's lines would make them soundly admon-

"The worst of all ways to lengthen our days in to steal a few hours from night, my dear."

Young man do not make a night hawk of yourself, for the night hawk is a useless bird and dies very young. The best of life need not necessarily be youth. Those enjoy the best of the world who retain all their physicial and intellectual powers beyond the half century notch, and who seep their hearts warm with human love and sympathy, and their hands firm and steady with good deeds.

What a sad time Mrs. Ray Hamilton, of New York, had in getting a suttable baby to work on the old main, as his'n, in order to force a marriage on him. Two of the babies died and the third was too dark complexioned. The fourth, however, caused the veneratile Republican statesman to yield, and with a baby that cost the heartless adventuress a $10 note she walked to the altar and became Mrs. Hamilton. Nothing in Rider Haggard's Cleopatra beats this for red headed audacity.

News comes from Minnesota that the thermometer dropped down to 40 degrees above zero yesterday and that the migratory birds are winging their way to the South. This is agreed as an augur of an early winter. Well the corn crop is now O. K. and if the early frost does not nip the vines too soon the pimpkid crop will also be out of danger. Croakers ayannt.

THE TARIFF AS IT AFFECTS IM-MIGHATION AND WAGES.

The returns of foreign immigration for July show a marked decrease of emigrants from Great Britain and Ireland, but an increase from Italy, as compared with the statistics for July 1888. The total number of arrivals for the month was 32,845, against 40,917 for July 1888. The emigration from Great Brittain and Ireland fell off 4,000, while the emigration from Italy in-creased 1,000. In this connection it is instructive to note the fact that Great Britain is a tariff for revenue country, while Italy is one of the highest Pro-tection countries of Europe. To day the flood of imported laborers, who come here to crowd out our American laborers, come in the largest numbers from the highest protected country. How do our bogus political economists account for this. How do they account LABORING men need not read the for the other fact that wages in Italy story of protection in the stars. It is are so low under Protection, and so of the earth, earthy, and can be seen much higher in Great Britain, under a revenue tariff, or practically free trade. In this connection, allow us to quote

In this connection, allow us to quote from Bradstreet, an authority that will not be questioned. Bradstreet says:

"The steady rise of workingmen's wages now going on in Great Britain is so general as to attract attention. The London Statist is particularly impressed with the facility and smoothness with which labor disputes are being settled to the satisfaction of the working people all over the country, affording highly satisfactory evidence of the social and economic progress made of late by the country."

That the more intelligent laboring men are being rapidly educated in the United States on the question of tariff

United States on the question of tariff taxes, as affecting wages, is evidenced by the following, from the Chicago Herald:

In this city, during the past six months, there has hardly been a public labor meeting held in which one or major meeting field in which one or more of the speakers have not in some manner touched upon the subject of taxation and its effect on labor and wages; and as the labor speakers most songht after are out and out free trad-ers, it is not difficult to see the trend of their remarks. The latroit to their remarks. The Detroit tax reform association, that meets once a week, has also added to its list of converts. Here is another pointer, that comes down upon us from the frozen realm of Brunswick. It is from the St. John Telegraph: "Simultaneously with the strikes caused by reduction of wages in the over-protected Republic of the U. S., comes the statement that the steady rise of workingmen's wages in Great Britain is so general as to attract atten-tion."

CAMPBELL'S MANLY COURSE.

Hon. James E. Campbell, the Democratic candidate for Governor of Ohio, was discharged from the navy in 1864 on account of disability incurred in the service, and on the same account a pen-sion was granted him. When his dis-ability ceased, that is, when he recovered his health, he reported his recovery to the pension bureau and surrendered the pension. This was nothing more than his duty under the law, but his course was so much at variance with Republican policy that Ohio Republi-cans are exasperated by the slightest reference to it.—St. Leuis Republic.

THE county treasury down in staid old Warren county is worse than bank-rupt. It appears that stealing has been going on there for years. The Repub-lican majority is so large in that county. that no Democrat has ever been allowed to feast his eyes or rest his weary body on the inside of the Court House in any on the inside of the Court House in any official capacity, and of course no Democrats are accessories in the schemes and devices of the rascals, who have been systematically robbing the county for a whole decade. The latest reports indicate a cash loss or over $200,000.

What's the matter with New Eog-land? She is full of millionaires, and is the home of the protected manufac-tories. The farmers there are getting poorer and poorer every year, and land is going down in price. Good lands are offered for sale at from $3 to $5 an acre, and the abandoned farms are numerous, especially in Vermont and some paris of Massachusetts. It is estimated that the $6,00,000 acres of land in Vermont, at least 200,000 that had been under the plow, are now lying idle and uncultivated.

ABOU PORAKER'S BATTLE REC-

General Sherwood, formerly of Toledo, now of Canton, is reported in a Hourbon sheet as saying that "Governor Foraker was never in but one battle in which a man was even wounded, save one, the battle of Hesaca, in which one man, John Runyan, was wounded." Governor Foraker's army record does not need any defense. It is too well known and two highly approved for that, but we would like to say a word in defense of General Sherwood. We do not believe he ever made the statement quoted. The assaults upon and capture of Resaca cost the Union army 600 dead and 3,300 wounded, to say nothing of the lesses of the Confederates. A copperhead Bourbon sheet might be expected to say that only one man was wounded at Resaca, but General Sherwood was a Union soldier, a loyal citizen, he known Union soldier, a loyal citizen, he knows hetter, and would not thus advertise himself as a liar before thousands who witnessed the bloody struggle at Reasea or know its history. Unless General Sherwood has become tosane he never made any such statement, and we have not yet been informed of any proceed-ings in lunacy against him.—Cleveland Leader. What we said, and what we again re-

Capt. G. W. Brown, of the 68th O. V. I., a comrade we had not met for a quarter of a century, made us glad by a call this morning. He is now a minister of the Evangeheal Alliance, and is located at South Fork, Penn. He was one of the first volunteers of the war, and we touched chows with him in the first campaign in West Virginia. Today he went to visit oid friends at Louisville, Ohio, where he was statuced immediately after the war. In response to an inquiry he stated that response to an inquiry he stated that the number of lives lost in the flood of the Conemanga was not far from 7,000.

WE can manufacture supplies for 100,000,000 people; but we have only 60-000 000 people to sell to. This is why we have so many lock-outs and labor cuts. Give us an enlarged market for our products. This we can have by knocking off the tariff tax on raw ma terial.

IT is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for a rich man to enter the kingdom of heaven. It will be much easier for a Campbell to get through the door to the Executive chair, especially as there is no hump on his back, than for J. Boodle Foraker.

A FREE TRADER has been discovered in Cleveland named L. A. Russel, who will not vote for Campbell, He has written a letter to one John H. Clarke, of Youngstown, making this announcement.

TIMES are said to be improving, but the number of business failures at this time far exceeds the number at this season last year. This is one of the distressing peculiarities of this Administration.
